

Symposium for Special Space Time Geometries and Chronologically Anomalous Behaviour

Venue: The Known Universe (and University of Reading)

Programme:

October 13 th , 14 th 2007 (and November 8 th 2005, July 10 th 1804, April 18 th 3029)
Time	Seminar Title	Room
05 30 – 06 30 (to beat the traffic)	Registration/ Coffee	Main hall (Reading)
08 30 – 09 00	Delegate welcome. Opening statement (Professor Boitard)	The Auditorium
10 45 – 11 45	Keynote speaker (The Dr.) 'Paradoxes and Plesiosaurs: A brief history of history as seen by a master of time and space'	Main hall
11 45 – 13 00	Plenary 1 (Dr Barjavel) '“Oops I killed my grandfather”: Temporal paradoxes and how to deal with them'	Quadrangle
13 00 – 14 00	Lunch	The Moon
14 00 – 14 45	Plenary 2 (Dr Horwich) ““Oops I killed my grandfather but it was already part of history so therefore internally consistent and no paradox was generated”: Temporal paradoxes aren't a problem'	Library

14 00 – 14 45	Plenery 3 (Prof Fox) “”You think you’ve got problems what about going back in time then your mum falling in love with you and then your frickin’ legs disappear!” Thinking about paradoxes will give you a headache’	Main hall
14 00 – 14 45	Workshop (Dr T Logan) ‘Time after Time: Integrating time-travel into event management’	Music room
14 45– 15 00 (October 8th ‘07 – January 4th ‘08)	Coffee and Biscuits	Main hall
15 00 - 14 30	Workshop (Prof T Achyon) ‘Faster Than Light Travel Paradoxes: Special relativity ain’t that special, it’s actually kind of annoying’	Library (and Venus)
16 00 – 16 32	AGM Lords of Time and Space (by invitation only) Theme ‘Boredom and Temporal perception: This’ll seem a hell of a lot longer than it actually is’	Auditorium
16 00 – 18 00	Workshop (Dr Myrddin Wyllt) ‘The Cosmic Gardener (Who made the wormholes?)’	The Final Frontier (student cafeteria)
18 00 – 00 00	Social event: Space Music Disco (featuring music by Tangerine Dream; Jean Michel-Jarre and Vangelis)	Main Hall